• ABOUT ME

Detail-oriented and passionate Computer Science graduate with 1 year of hands-on experience in Liferay 7.4 DXP development, including real-world contributions to enterprise-grade projects. Adept in building responsive portals, developing service builder modules, and leveraging Headless APIs. In addition to technical development, I bring over two years of experience as a professional Data Entry Specialist and Content Writer, offering proven expertise in accuracy, communication, and structured information management. Enthusiastic about Artificial Intelligence, with a growing focus on integrating AI solutions into modern software applications.
